

Do You Have A Story About Homelessness ?

No Straight Lines is a volunteer community group putting together a live show for summer 2014 about homelessness. The name No Straight Lines comes from the idea that there is no straight path into or out of homelessness, it is different for everyone.

This project will

Show People What It Is Like To Be Homeless

Help spread awareness about what it means to be homeless: Couch Surfing, sleeping outside, living in low quality housing, staying places you don't want to be ... what does it mean to you?

Learn New Ways to Express Yourself

Learn about ways to tell your story through art & theatre

Who can be involved? Anyone who has experienced any kind of homelessness who would like to share their story

What is involved? The project will be developed and practiced from May 5th to August 13th 2014. You would be available Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10:00am – 2:00pm and all day August 10 -16th
